Managed Services Plans

Anticipating that our customers may move some of their IT assets to the Cloud, we've augmented some of our 'traditional' support services along with them, so that we can provide our same high-quality technical support – from the Cloud.

All of our Support365™ plans feature a wide range of Cloud-based support services, so if you're shorthanded due to IT staff absences, away for a long vacation, or home tucked away in bed – you can relax and rest assured that Dataprise has your office and your Cloud completely covered.

Our Cloud support service is an always-available resource, staffed around the clock with certified technical consultants who are ready at a moment's notice to assist anyone in your organization.
