Client Testimonial

Law Firm

Washington, DC

Challenge:

A law firm in Washington, DC was taking on a growing number of document-intensive cases. The firm needed a robust document management solution to organize and archive critical documents for client cases, and wanted to determine whether their existing network infrastructure would support the new application.

Additionally, most of their hardware was out-of-warranty, the network had insufficient bandwidth and storage capacity, and servers were running operating systems no longer supported by the manufacturer.

Solution:

Dataprise conducted an assessment of the network and determined that the existing infrastructure was not adequate to support such a modern document management system. We designed a network upgrade plan based on the firm's primary objectives – build a new IT infrastructure powerful enough to support the latest document management systems, while providing the necessary data security demanded by legal regulations. Using a combination of virtual server technology and Dataprise cloud-based services, we were able to provide a comprehensive solution that would support the firm's changing IT needs – not just for the short term, but for many years to come.
